

A Singaporean pedestrian places an ID card enabled with “Green Man +” features over an electronic reader, temporarily extending the time the crosswalk signal will allow him to traverse the street.

From « What Can a Body Do ? » by Sara Hendren